A person is seen from behind, sitting at a desk in a control room. The room features a large, curved wall of windows that provides a panoramic view of an airport tarmac. The windows are divided into a grid of smaller panes, each showing a different scene from the airport, including runways, taxiways, and aircraft. The person is wearing a dark jacket and is looking out the windows. The room has a modern, professional appearance with a dark ceiling and a light-colored desk.

Thank you!

Looking forward to working together.
